

2009 Police-Writers.com Annual Recognition

Police-Writers.com Author of the Year

Police-Writers.com Author of the Year:

The "Police-Writers.com Author of the Year" recognizes a published police author's continuing career and community service successes. Entry requirements are:

- The author is listed on www.police-writers.com. (There is no charge for listing on the website and interested authors need only visit the FAQs section of the website and submit the necessary information);
- Applications for this award are only taken from the author;
- This award is open to ALL state, local and federal sworn law enforcement officials, as well as civilian law enforcement employees and international police officers listed on the website;
- The author published a book anytime prior to December 31, 2008; and,
- The application, supporting documentation and three copies of the any book published by the author are received by December 31, 2008.

Author Information:

Name: _____

Address: _____

Telephone: _____

Email: _____

Additional Information: _____

Book Information:

Title: _____

ISBN: _____

Publisher: _____

Application Must Include:

- Author resume; and,
- 300 to 500 word narrative biography describing the author's significant professional and community contributions.

Send to: Police-Writers.com

C/O Hi Tech Criminal Justice

PMB No. 122, 1034 W. Arrow Highway, Suite D

San Dimas, CA 91773

1. Application must be accompanied by three copies of the book.
2. Application must include author resume and narrative biography.
3. Books will not be returned.
4. Applicants will be notified of receipt of their books and application via email.
5. Eighty percent of the judging will be based on the author's professional and community contribution, twenty percent based on the previous literary contribution
6. Winner will be announced in March 2009.